Style Invitational Week 1127: Because there just aren't enough TV series

Plus the winning neologisms from our third ScrabbleGrams contest

Groomzilla, but only as ape: "Pay Bux for the Tux" — what TV series spinoff can you come up with? (Bob Staake for The Washington Post)

Original: “Say Yes to the Dress.”

Spinoff: “Pay Bux for the Tux.”

Groom: This is the first thing I tried on and I like it fine.

Groomsmen: Us, too.

Salesman: So: Will you pay bux for the tux?

Groom: Yeah. Okay, let's get some beer.

This week's contest comes from Obsessive Loser Jeff Contompasis, who with 447 blots of ink is next in line to reach the 500-blot Style Invitational Hall of Fame:

Think up a spinoff of a real TV series, past or present, and furnish a description or bit of dialogue, as in the example above by JefCon, as the Loser Community calls him. Your entry shouldn't use much more space than Jeff's script.

Papa always said, "When it rains it pours." This week's second-prize salt and pepper shakers. (Pat Myers/The Washington Post)

Winner gets the Inkin' Memorial, the Lincoln statue bobblehead that is the official Style Invitational trophy. Second place receives one more in our continuing series of Weird Salt and Pepper Shakers: a merry pair of ceramic S&Ps depicting a grandma-grandpa-looking couple, except that Grandma has a giant bun in the oven under her apron. Upon which is lettered: "You and your 'once more for old times' sake'!" Donated by Nan Reiner.

Other runners-up win their choice of a yearned-for Loser Mug or the ardently desired “Whole Fools” Grossery Bag. Honorable mentions get a lusted-after Loser magnet designed by Bob Staake: either “The Wit Hit the Fan” or “Hardly Har-Har.” First Offenders receive a smelly tree-shaped air “freshener” (FirStink for their first ink). E-mail entries to losers@washpost.com or, if you were born in the 19th century, fax to 202-334-4312. Deadline is Monday night, June 15; results published July 5 (online July 2). You may submit up to 25 entries per contest. Include “Week 1127” in your e-mail subject line or it might be ignored as spam. Include your real name, postal address and phone number with your entry. See contest rules and guidelines at wapo.st/InvRules. The headline for this week’s results was submitted separately by Great Minds Frank Osen, Chris Doyle and Kevin Doport; the honorable-mentions subhead is by Jon Gearhart. HAR SCRABBLE: WINNING SCRABBLEGRAMS NEOLOGISMS OF WEEK 1123

Week 1123 was our third annual Tile Invitational, in which we posted several dozen seven-letter

“tile racks” used in ScrabbleGrams word puzzles, and invited you to create your own terms of five, six or seven letters, or supply a funny definition of an actual word. Lots of people found “sin hour” in HINORSU, defining it as what comes right after happy hour.

4th place:

AAABKLV → Lavabak: Hawaiian term meaning “mainlander forgot the sunscreen.” (Dion Black, Washington)

3rd place:

EGLOPSS → Glopess: The school lunch lady. (Jeff Contompasis, Ashburn, Va.)

2nd place and the Doggie Doo pump game:

AACELMN → Manlace: Really tattered underwear. (Jeff Shirley, Richmond, Va.)

And the winner of the Inkin' Memorial:

EFFILRY → Filefry: Somehow, Hillary's phone got infected by this bug. (Ricardo Rodriguez, Springfield, Va., a First Offender)

Tilin' error: honorable mentions

AACELMN → Ma Clean: The real brains behind the Magic Eraser. (Frances Hirai-Clark, Columbia, Md.)

→ Manlace: Burlap. — C. Norris, Hollywood (Bob Brown, Alexandria, Va.)
