Style Invitational Week 1020: Rerun for the roses: use winning 'foals' to make 'grandfoals'

By Pat Myers, Published: May 2

To the utter astonishment of absolutely no one, our 19th annual contest to "breed" the names of two Triple Crown-nominated horses and name the "foal" once again drew many thousands of entries, including hundreds of clever ones, of which several dozen get ink here. (If you are certain that your own un-inking entry was superior to those appearing today, rest assured that the Empress omitted it only because she doesn't like that irritating smirk of yours.)

And once again, as we've been doing for a decade, we invite you back into the breeding shed: This week: "Breed" any two of this week's winning foals and name the "grandfoal." As always, the name may not exceed 18 characters including punctuation and spaces. In some past years, we let you breed a foal with another parent, but I think this year's younger generation gives us enough to work with. Be sure to spell those horses correctly in your entry, or else it might be overlooked as I search for each name electronically.

Winner gets the Inkin' Memorial, the Lincoln-statue bobblehead that is the official Style Invitational trophy. Second place receives the so-appropriate ceramic mug pictured at left (though "Mug a loser" would have been a better line). Donated by the huggable Loser Marleen May.

Other runners-up win their choice of a yearned-for Loser Mug or the ardently desired Grossery Bag. Honorable mentions get a lusted-after Loser magnet. First Offenders receive a smelly, tree-shaped air "freshener" (FirStink for their first ink). E-mail entries to losers@washpost.com or fax to 202-334-4312. Deadline is Monday, May 13; results published June 2 (online May 30). No more than 25 entries per entrant per week. Include "Week 1020" in your e-mail subject line or it might be ignored as spam. Include your real name, postal address and phone number with your entry. See contest rules and guidelines at wapo.st/inviterules. The subhead for this week's honorable mentions is by Beverley Sharp, as is the alternative headline in the "Next week's results" line. Join the lively Style Invitational Devotees group on Facebook at on.fb.me/invdev.

Still running — deadline is Monday night — is our contest about what to do during Screen-Free Week. See bit.ly/invite1019.

Report from Week 1016

this year's installment of our perennial contest in which we post a list of 100 horses eligible for this year's Triple Crown races and ask you to "breed" them and name the "foal." Among the more than 400 entrants — each sending up to 25 entries apiece — several people bred Amerigo Vespucci with Will Take Charge to produce Discover Card; Caviar Dreams with War Academy to make Sturgeon General; and Hear the Ghost with Hard to Name for the foal Boo Who. Hard to Name was also bred with My Name Is Michael to produce various horses named That Ain't So Hard, Problem Solved, etc. — several of them from people named Michael.

See the Empress's online column The Style Conversational (posted late Thursday afternoon), in which she discusses today's new contest and results along with news about the Loser Community — and you can vote for your favorite among the inking entries, since you no doubt figured the Empress chose the wrong winner. If you'd like an e-mail notification each week when the Invitational and Conversational are posted online, write to the Empress at losers@washpost.com (note that in the subject line) and she'll add you to the mailing list. And on Facebook, join the far more lively group Style Invitational Devotees and chime in.

Next week's results: Vowel Play, or Same O, Same O, our Week 1017 contest to write a newspaper headline in which only one vowel is used throughout.
