(Click here to skip down to the winning “Wait Wait ... Don't Tell Me”-style quiz questions.)

Why da heck is a convention of dendochronologists* such a hoot, anyways? Because it's like a tree-ring circus!

*Dendochronologists date events by studying growth rings in trees. (Chris Doyle)

Why did the chromosome blush when the DNA polymerase* came into the room? He caught her with her genes unzipped!

*DNA polymerase causes the double helix of the chromosome to “unzip” so the gene can be replicated. (Mohamed Alesh)

This is a contest we've done just once before, 13 years ago: Tell us an original joke whose punch line can't be understood without knowledge — not necessarily scientific — that most of us don't have (which you'll supply with a concise explanation), as in the examples above, which got ink back in 2003.

Winner gets the Inkin' Memorial, the Lincoln statue bobblehead that is the official Style Invitational trophy. Second place receives, in keeping with specialized knowledge, "The Ultimate North Carolina Quiz Book," a 1999 volume that will tell you 500 more things about North Carolina than you used to know. (What is the highest incorporated town east of the Mississippi? Beech Mountain, N.C.) Found somewhere by Loser Pie Snelson. Who is not from North Carolina.

Other runners-up win their choice of a yearned-for Loser Mug, the older-model "This Is Your Brain on Mugs" mug or a vintage Loser T-shirt. Honorable mentions get one of our lusted-after Loser magnets, "Magnet Dum Laude" or "Falling Jest Short." First Offenders receive a smelly tree-shaped air "freshener" (FirStink for their first ink). Email entries to losers@washpost.com. Deadline is Monday night, April 4; results published April 24 (online April 21). You may submit up to 25 entries per contest. Include "Week 1168" in your email subject line or it might be ignored as spam. Include your real name, postal address and phone number with your entry. See contest rules and guidelines at wapo.st/InvRules. The headline for this week's results is by Jesse Frankovich; the honorable-mentions subhead is by Beverley Sharp. ## HAR CHOICES: OUR WINNING 'WAIT WAIT'-STYLE QUIZ QUESTIONS

In Week 1164 we honored (a.k.a. totally ripped off) NPR's comedy quiz show "Wait Wait . . . Don't Tell Me" and asked for multiple-choice questions about real events or trivia. The Empress asked longtime Washington Post writer Roxanne Roberts — who's also a longtime "Wait Wait" panelist — for her fave among this week's inking entries: It was Kevin Dopart's "11/11/11" (especially his wrong answers). More from Roxanne in this week's Style Conversational.
