JANE DOE 432 SUDDENLY SURFACES

!!!! DEPRAVDA EXCLUSIVE !!!!!

Little Rock, Arlington - Jane Doe #432 came forward this week determined to go public with a lurid, steamy, erotically charged, pornographic and sometimes even surprising account concerning her illicit love affair with then Arkansas attorney general William Jefferson Clinton. White House Lawyers were caught completely off guard by these new allegations and are still searching frantically for language with which to construct a technically accurate denial.

Ms. Doe agreed to give an exclusive interview to Depravda for an ungodly sum of money but wished to remain anonymous to prevent White House thugs from hunting her down and throwing her off the balcony of her penthouse apartment near the corner of I-395 and Rt.7 in Alexandria.

DEP: We know this is difficult for you to talk about, but you're claiming that twenty years ago Bill Clinton, then attorney general of Arkansas, raped you?

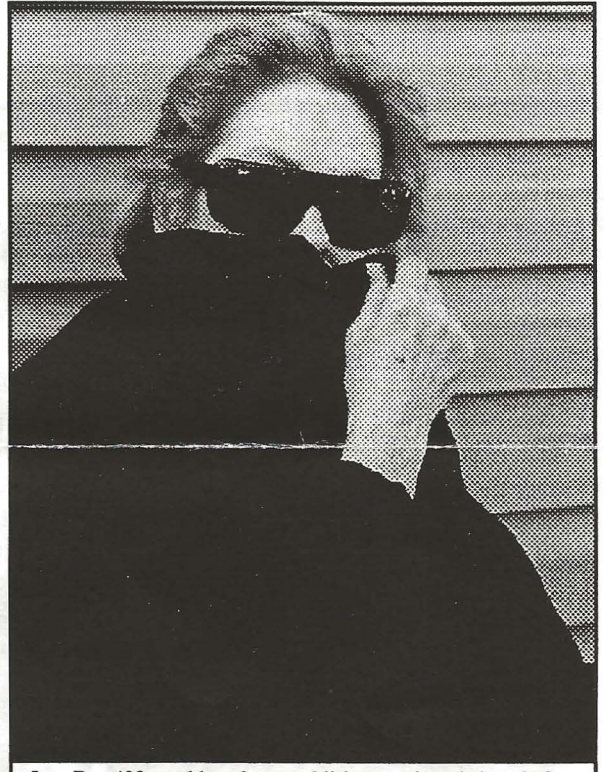

JD432: You don't understand. I was working on his campaign committee. It had been a long day of stuffing envelopes, canvassing Chinese officials for donations, fetching doughnuts for the police and making anonymous threats to supporters of the opposition. So that evening I was nearly exhausted and I returned to my motel room. About a hour later I noticed a stretch limo drive up and he got out.

DEP: He, being Mr. Clinton?

JD432: No, he being Chuck E. Cheese. OF COURSE it was Bill Clinton you idiot! So anyway he came up the stairs and went in the door... <tears>... It was... horrible.

DEP: You mean he forced the door to your room without even knocking?

JD432: Well no not actually, you see he had gotten the wrong room. He mistakenly went into one of the campaign secretary's rooms. She had the room next to mine so it must have been an easy mistake to make. Anyway, I knew it would be embarrassing for them both so I rushed on over there to fix things. From the looks of it Lizzy, that was her name, had been getting ready for bed as she didn't have any clothes on. He was clearly embarrassed by the whole thing. Just as I got there I remember him shouting out in shock "Good God!" Well I quickly told Lizzy to go over to my place and I'd take care of everything. She was red-faced as a beet. Clearly the President's mistake had her flustered.

Jane Doe 432 would not let us publish an unaltered photo in fear that the president's lackeys might hunt her down and slash her tires.

Letters to the Edmeister

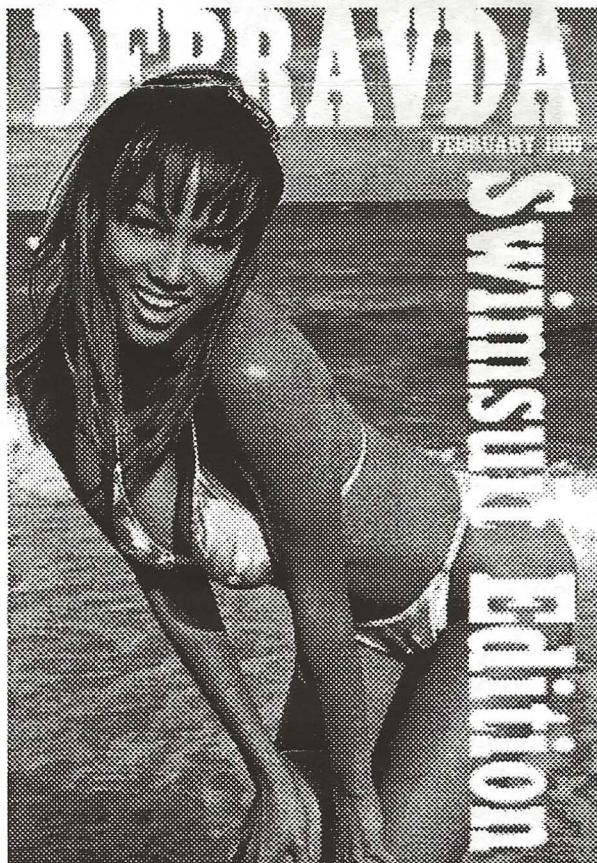

Dear Editor,

Last month's Depravda was a vast, VAST, I'd go so far as to say EXTREMELY VAST improvement over all previous issues combined. I can't believe you actually went with full color glossy pictures. And those swim suited Losers were something to behold. I've got the Jennifer Hart centerfold thumbtacked to my headboard where it will stay forever. While I don't know how you guys can afford to raise the quality that high, let me be the first to congratulate you. I give the issue two,.. no - make that three thumbs up!

Steve Dudzik

Steve,

Thanks for the kind words. I think they're the first we've ever gotten here and I can only hope my staff doesn't start to expect such encouragement on any sort of regular basis. Putting together the February "swimsuit" issue is always a challenge for us here at Depravda and going with the full color pictures was a costly risk - although one we think paid off. It did about double our expenses though and in order to compensate we were only able to mail out about half as many copies as we normally do. So while we can't do this every month we will try it again in August with our annual "full frontal nudity" issue. -ed.

The annual swim suit edition was once again our most popular issue. Most people claim to buy it for the articles even though we typically do not include any in the February edition in order to make more room for pictures. This year's copy is already being auctioned on EBAY and going for upwards of $75.00

Dear Eddy-tor,

During my rare "goofing-off" time here at a well-known defense contractor I check out Mme. Hull's Loser wicked web site. Man was I floored when I saw hits from such obscure places as Finland, Slovenia (SLOVENIA!) and Canada not to mention the Netherlands and the UK. What the heck is going on? Isn't there some kind of war going on in Slovenia? Can Canadians read English? How can we cater to the Dutch? Do these countries monitor our web site for some evil ulterior purpose? Do they want to steal our good looking men? What gives? I want answers man! Sincerely, Web foot.

Dear Webby,

So many questions, so little space. Ms. Hull has clearly entered the realm of international porn. That's why you see so many hits from foreign places like Canada, Alderon and Springfield. Meanwhile there are always wars going on and we don't have time to cover them all. I'll check with the Slovenia desk next month to see if anything is afoot. If you're going to cater to the Dutch I recommend barbecue. I love barbecue so if they don't like it then bring it my way. Mmmmmmm..... bbq..... <drols>

Dear Editor,

Rumor has it that Depravda is in dire need of filler to add meat to the March issue. I'll bet you are so desperate that you will print this piece of fluffy drivel. I really doubt I will have anything intelligent or mildly interesting to say in this letter that hasn't been said before. Heck, I won't even correct spelling errors. I know you guys run a loose ship anyway and Quality is Job 1214 around there. I could do something useful like write a column about the Loser visit to the taping of "politically Incorrect" but that would require real effort and some modicum of journalistic talent. Never did get to meet Gilbert Gottfried backstage, not that he would be my first choice. That blonde was hot though, wasn't she? My hands almost fell off from all that forced clapping. The phone bit didn't work out to well but I did get a bunch of numbers to call. That'll be fun. I sat next to my sister and Chuck, then next to Mary Lou when my sister left. I'm glad Chuck didn't notice me putting the make on his wife. All in all it was a fun experience especially since it was free. free is good. Does this eat up enuf space? Do you think anybody will read all of this? I feel better about myself now. God bless you and the entire Depravda staff.

-- Filler boy (Silver Spring)

Dear Filler Boy,

Poignant and still well said.

Dear Editor,

I would like to complain about...huh? Oh, uh, sure. I'll hold.

I Fought the Law and I Had Fun

Jane Doe #432 (continued from page A1)

DEP: So what happened next?

JD432: Well, the President seemed flustered too and I think he sort of wanted to leave as well. He said something about going next door to apologize. But I could see in his eyes that he wanted me,... you know, in that way.

So being the naive campaign worker that I was I didn't see any way I could protest. Who would believe me anyway? So I picked him up, tossed him on the bed and before I could do anything about it I had ripped off his clothes.

Sure he feigned resistance at first, shouting out "GOD PLEASE STOP!" and "DON'T DO THIS! I'M BEGGIN YA! I'LL PAY WHATEVER YOU WANT!" You know, the typical. So after four or five times I knew he felt remorse. He even broke down and cried. I even started to feel sympathetic so rather than resisting I insisted that he do me again, right there right then.

He was much too much a gentleman to take advantage of such a situation so this time I had to take control. I can't really describe that experience beyond pointing out that someone happened to be looking in the window at the time and it turns out I qualified to participate in the championship rodeo being held the very next night.

DEP: <slack jawed stare>

JD432: After that he never called, he never wrote, he never apologized. It was truly one of the most difficult times of my life. It was days before I was able to recover from the trauma. My good friend Teddy Kennedy listened and comforted me as I cried the story to him. He was so kind he even had me show him what happened. Not many would do so much for a friend.

DEP: <regaining composure> Uhh,... uhh,... but uhh,... umm... you never told any of this to Ken Starr during his investigation.

JD432: No, and I wouldn't. Starr is a little toady and I wouldn't speak with him. I don't talk to anyone I wouldn't do.

DEP: But you're talking with us...

JD432: ...

DEP: <sudden realization>

DEP: <paralyzed with terror>

PAUL KONDIS PRESENTS... Rotisserie League '99

... I can only guess what the first official act of the new Editor will be...anyway Suzy, can you transcribe this tape for me? Thanks.

We were fully prepared to present our special advertising column this week, but we had to cancel it. It was not cancelled due a lack of advertising, perish the thought, but because the offers were rather strange. For example, Coke offered what we considered quite a tidy sum for us to mention Pepsi prominently. After grappling with the ethical ramifications until they pinned us (twice), we talked it over with our editor, who suggested that it would be best to find a different, more appropriate topic for our Rotisserie League coverage. So we came up with a crack investigative reporting story. Editor's note: Drink Pepsi.

So. Today's topic is Beets: Friend or Evil Arch-Enemy?

In order to analyze this pertinent, intriguing, and effervescent topic, we must first realize that the Loser Rotisserie League and Subsistence Farm suspended operations briefly during January, literally, as it froze to a tree branch, where it stayed until plummeting onto the power lines below. We are not at liberty to say what it was doing in the tree to begin with, but it has been issued a restraining order for stalking. This will hamper its search for a new commissioner, but, being fairly resourceful, it is sure that a new commissioner will be firmly in place as soon as the cement dries.

Another factor in this beet discussion is that the League took little note of the amateurish spectacle that its rival, the National Football League, put on for those few who actually tuned in to view its championship game. Most critics agreed that the offensive (and defensive) display was not up to the lofty standards set last October, or whenever the heck the Loser Rotisserie champion was determined. The Losers had continued to exhibit their overall prowess at pomp and pageantry, all done in a tastefully understated way, and had hoped that the NFL would be inspired by this. The expected halftime performance of the Duelling Loser Band, however, did not materialize, with the NFL reneging on an agreement that was rumored to be in the high two figures. Thus, the performance fell far short of what could have been a highlight shown again and again, at least until all the suspects could be rounded up.

In conclusion, we can safely say that, yes, beets definitely are, unless we are mistaken, and they are not.

HORRIBLESCOPE

Pisces: Feb 19 - Mar 20

If you delete the 'ce' from Pisces it pretty clear what's left and that should tell you something. Pisces are always pissing and moaning about how miserable their existances are. Well they may be annoying, but you got to give them points for accuracy. In fact they've inspired the new Depravda contest to see if anyone can come up with something worse than being a Pisces. Send your entries to Depravda c/o Depravda Editor at the address on the masthead. Winners may receive a valuable prize or something.

Boxing promoter Don King reaches out to help Loser Dave Zarrow seek forgiveness from the community after Dave inadvertently made an offensive joke about professional wrestling.

Dave was immediately fired from Depravda and removed as the spokesman for all Loser activities.

So Ghandi, the Pope, Rabbi Rabinowitz and two pollacks are walking down the street when this Italian steps in front of them...

Wanted - Depravda Publisher

Sometime later this year the current Depravda editor/publisher will be implicated in a scandal so foul, so heinous, so unbelievably vile, that he will be forced to resign his post in humiliation. While we plan to cover this event in every sordid detail we will be needing someone to take the helm at Depravda when the story reaches its conclusion.

loserpalooza '99

The time is upon us to begin forming the planning committee for Loserfest '99. The rules are simple: Don't screw this up.

Those who are rumored to have already expressed some sort of interest in being on the rules committee are: Brian Broadus, Bill Strider, and Jan VerrEy. Well it's time to put your money where your mouth is. If you or someone you love would like to be a part of the Loserfest planning committee contact Depravda or make your wish known at the upcoming loser brunch.

Benefits include: Once you've been on a Loserpalooza planning committee you need never do it again! (value - priceless)

Week 304: TIME OF THE SIGNS

National Security Agency: "YOUR PRAYERS ARE HEARD. BY US. " (David Genser)

The Census Bureau: "YOU ARE ABOVE AVERAGE" (Joel Knanishu)

A genital-augmentation clinic: "Can't we all just get a 'long'?" (Thomas Windsall)

ABANDON ALL POPES, YE WHO CANTOR HERE (Howard Walderman)

Week 305: ASK BACKWARD CMVXI2

A: Gold, Frankincense and Chiclets

Q: What gifts did two wise and one unwise man bring to the infant Jesus? (Barry Blyveis)

A: Llama and a Thermometer, but Not Elizabeth Dole

Q: What things may be taken rectally? (Brian Broadus)

A: President William Jefferson Hernandez

Q: After his spectacular season in 1998, what nickname did Orlando "El Duque" Hernandez insist on for 1999? (Stu Taylor)

Week 306: YOUNGIAN THERAPY

Would it kill us to at least try James Van Der Beek on the new $10 bill? (Jens Jorgensen)

Really, I mean like really fill the potholes with pot. (Charlie Myers)

Week 307: IF YOU BOYCOTT THIS TASK/ YOU WON'T WIN THE FLASK

When you watch the O's play the Yankees,
Better bring plenty of hankies. (Peter Angelos)

An Adam's apple on the hooker's neck,
In her pants you really should check. (Stephen Dudzik)

Your kid has three eyes and a hump,
Move away from that toxic dump. (Jonathan Paul)

If your polls are going up,
An intern you can shtup. (Joseph Romm)

In D.C., avoid anguished groans,
Don't use racist near-homophones. (Ralph Scott)

If you hit Tyson's car in a defensive driving omission,
Curl up in the fetal position. (Chuck Smith)

Arlington residents honor Jennifer Hart with a statue to recognize her contributions to the community through the House of Pain and as the presumed Loser of the Year
